

where people really got concerned about whether or not their doctor would be there and able to see them if they got sick. We want to reassure the American people that, indeed, their doctor will be there, their hospital will be there. And keep the thriving private sector, keep the growing public sector and allow that creative tension that exists between the two to expand coverage for more Americans, and most importantly, so that we keep it affordable for our children, our children's children and into the future.

Mr. Speaker, it has been a long day. Many of us traveled today. And I appreciate your indulgence. I am going to yield back whatever time is remaining.
